1. COMPETENCES AND LEARNING OUTCOMES

1.1. Competences

CB1 Have and understand knowledge in an area of study that is based on general secondary education, and is usually found at a level that, although supported by advanced textbooks, also includes some aspects that imply knowledge coming from the forefront of their field of study.

CB2 Apply their knowledge to their work or vocation in a professional way and possess the skills that are usually demonstrated through the elaboration and defence of arguments and the resolution of problems within their area of study.

CB3 Gather and interpret relevant data (usually within their area of study) to make judgments that include a reflection on relevant social, scientific or ethical issues.

CB4 Transmit information, ideas, problems and solutions to both a specialized and non-specialized public.

CB5 Develop the learning skills necessary to undertake further studies with a high degree of autonomy.

CG1 Identify the main theoretical contributions to the field of linguistic and literary studies.

CG2 Acquire the basic scientific knowledge applied to Foreign Modern Languages and its professional internships.

CG3 Develop reasoning and exposition strategies, written and orally, within the field of study of Applied Modern Languages.

CG4 Be aware of fundamental questions about the nature of language in order to understand its relationship with culture, society and other humanistic disciplines.

CG6 Use information and communication technologies and knowledge to organise, plan and develop academic and professional activities in the field of Applied Modern Languages.

CG7 Recognise, document, value and go in depth into linguistic, literary and cultural diversity in current context, drawing attention to its origins and future perspectives.

CE4 Describe the structure of the studied languages in the different fields (Phonology, Lexicon, Morphology, Syntax, Semantics, Pragmatics and Discourse) identifying different registers.

CE5 Knowing the pragmatic rules of the studied languages in order to adequately interpret oral and written messages, preventing linguistic and intercultural misunderstandings.

CE6 Understand the complexity of linguistic facts and literary works, appreciate their aesthetic values and their meaning in their socio-political context.

CE8 Conocer y saber aplicar conceptos, métodos y terminología básica propios de la lingüística, la literatura y la adquisición de lenguas.

CE9 Apply linguistic, synchronic and diachronic knowledge.

CE10 Recognise temporal, spatial, social and situational varieties of the studied languages in order to interpret texts from different typologies and to manage them in different communicative exchanges.

CE11 Know the basis of technological applications to process natural language, the improvement of communication, organization and access to information.

CE12 Identify and understand the elements that define and articulate linguistic and literary studies as scientific disciplines and recognise their interdisciplinary character.

1.2. Learning outcomes
